After finishing the signing ceremony, Prof. Yong Suk Chung (Jeju National University, Korea) had a seminar on “Plant Phenomics”. The Professor expressed his desire to openly exchange his topics with colleagues in the same industry, scientific researchers and interested learners. Besides, Prof. Yong Suk Chung also introduced some research directions of the Laboratory and the Subtropical Horticultural Research Institute (JNU). At the end of the report, there is an interview with undergraduate students/graduate students/postgraduate students who are interested in the research direction and wish to study at the Professor’s lab.
